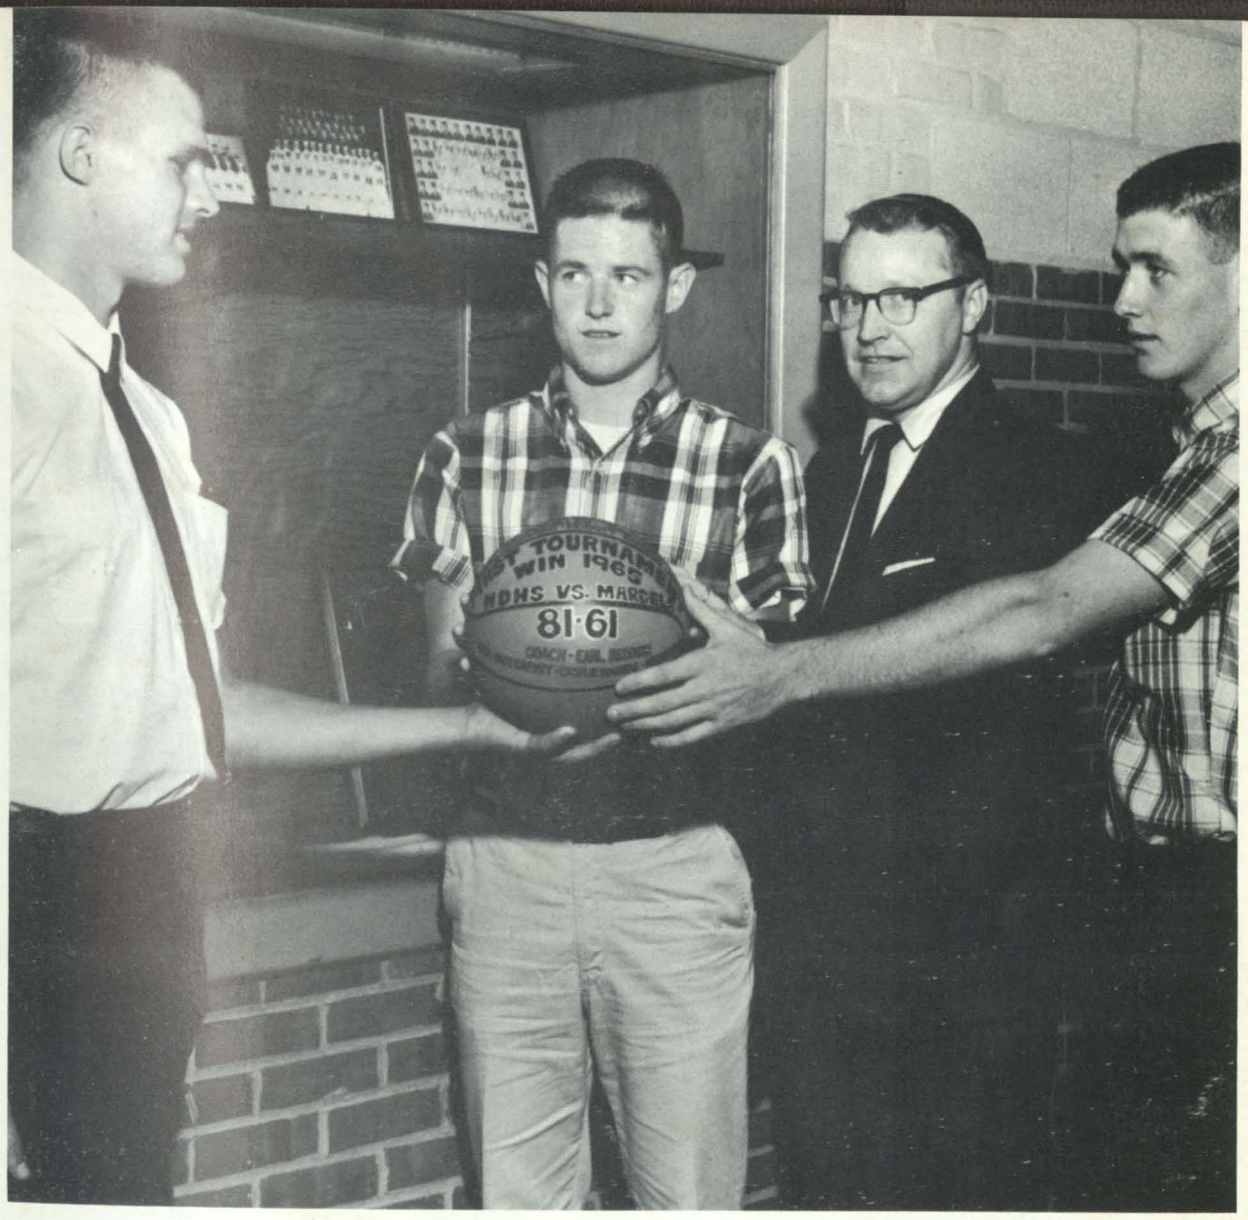
PREFACE

Teamwork. A simple, quite complicated, asset to any team. The team at North Dorchester for the school. Behind this effort is the spirit of cooperation which prompts it. Duties become Christmas Dance, the Student Council, and the Keneu itself show the positive results of this are made possible, a newspaper is published, a concession stand is constructed. It's as simple,

During the 1964-65 school year, student, faculty, and staff accomplishments have been similarly, the dedication of the 1965 Keneu is to the 1964-65 Eagle basketball squad.

In 1965, for the fourth time only in N. D.'s history, Eagle fans could boast of a winning Brohawn, second high scorer in Dorchester County high school basketball during the 1964-65 Reddish and the remainder of the Eagle squad. Throughout the season, these Eagles tried, and efforts won for them a berth in the regional tournament playoffs as Dorchester County "C" class bowing to the Crisfield Crabbers, the 1964 state "C" class champions, 60-87.

It took the state champions to lick the 1964-65 Eagles. And we're proud.



High School is a team of students, faculty, and staff, each member attempting his or her best interesting, and most important of all, completed at N. D. through cooperation. The Prom, the group attitude. Everybody gets together, and things get done. A trip is financed, club activities and as complicated, as that.

unusually noteworthy; thus, carried throughout the 1965 Keneu is its theme--TEAMWORK. And, basketball season. And it felt great. Piling up Eagle points on the scoreboard were Howard season, Hobart Rogers, Ned Era, Don Smith, John Bradley, and Bob Allen backed by Coach Earl tried hard, for that one more field goal, that one more foul shot, that one more game. And their champions. In tournament play, they won handily over the Mardela Warriors, 81-61, before

North Dorchester High School is a combination of many things -- music, term papers, art projects, shorthand drills. Its halls echo with the sounds of hurrying feet, busy chatter, and joking laughter. Its classrooms witness success, and failure.

H.S.

The pictures on these two pages, without captions, depict several of the many N.D.H.S. scenes. In the classroom and in student administered projects, students strive to improve the school, as well as themselves. On the athletic field, perky figures in red and white cheer for another Eagle victory, while the bands and booster groups lend their support. The people of N.D.H.S. are a team, all working for its betterment.

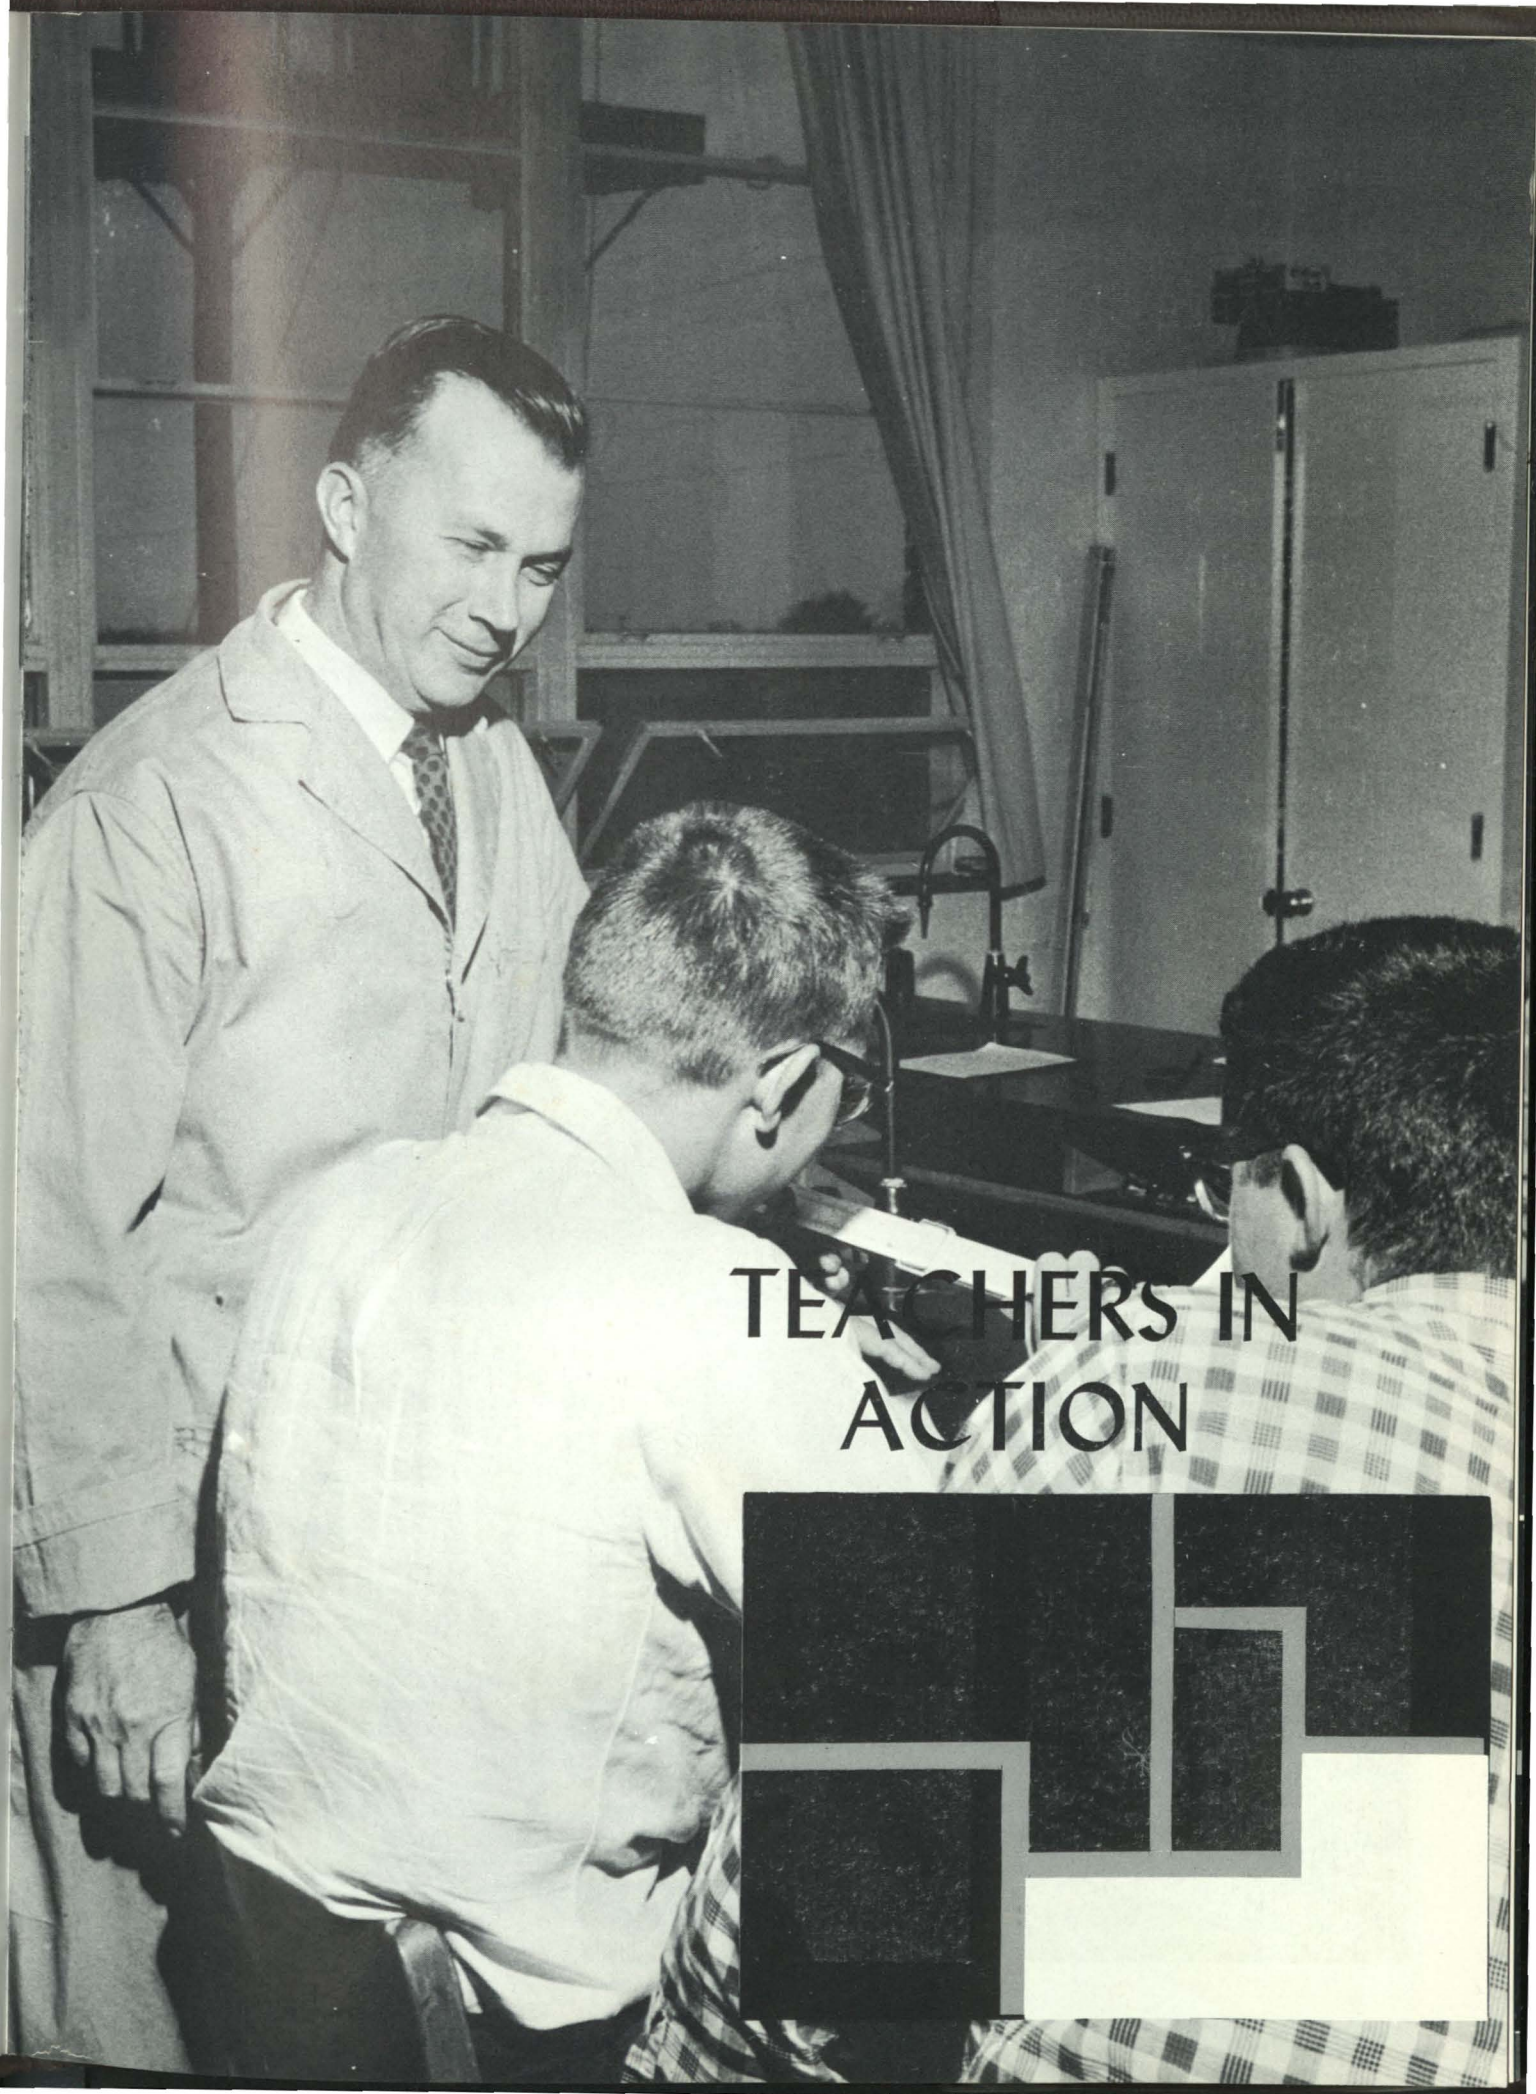
Capturing the moments of the yearbook staff at work and in unusual situations, these pictures represent the teamwork which was necessary to produce the 1965 Keneu.

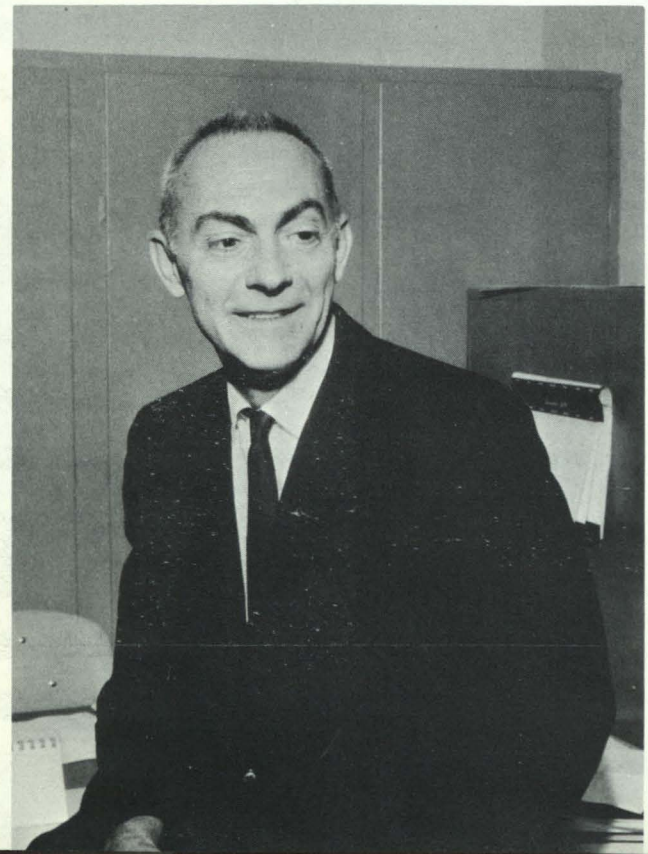


TEACHERS IN ACTION

Administration and Faculty

Mr. S. G. Tyler came to North Dorchester as principal in 1961. Since then he has done much to encourage scholastic competition and sportsmanship. He is often seen in classrooms, and canvassing student opinions.

Besides his duties as vice-principal Mr. Ray Moore is kept busy teaching physics and chemistry, chaperoning various school activities and serving as sponsor of the Senior Class.

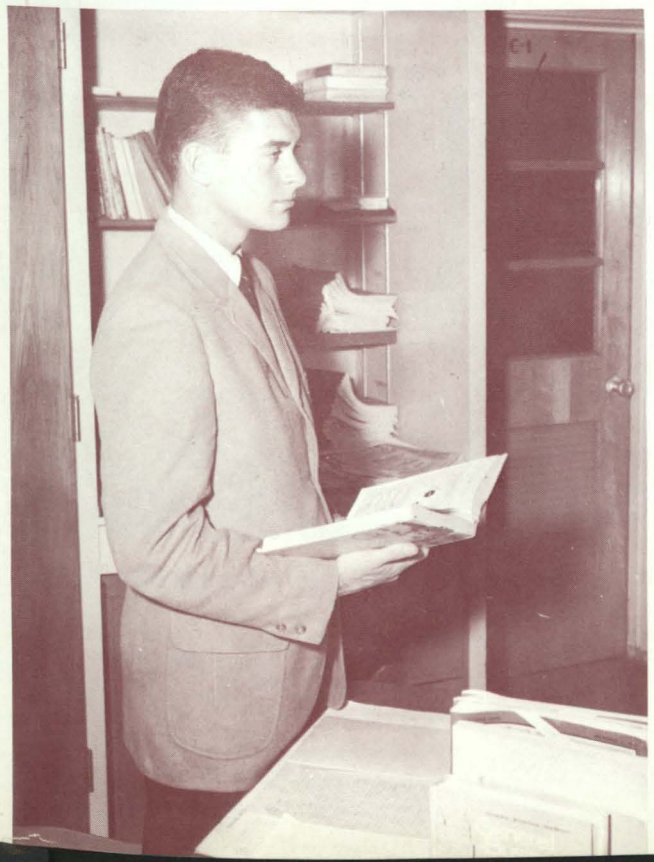


Mr. Robert Vincent, guidance counselor at North Dorchester since its beginning, does much to give students job guidance, vocational and academic guidance, and the most recent scholastic information.

The smiling face of Mrs. Pat Hopkins is seen often around N.D. both as a regular and substitute teacher.

Lead Activities.

Starting his teaching career, Mr. Ray Stevens attempts to teach N.D. students government and the responsibilities of citizens.



MR. THOMAS AUSTIN

junior high science, baseball coach.

MRS. ELSIE BAYNARD

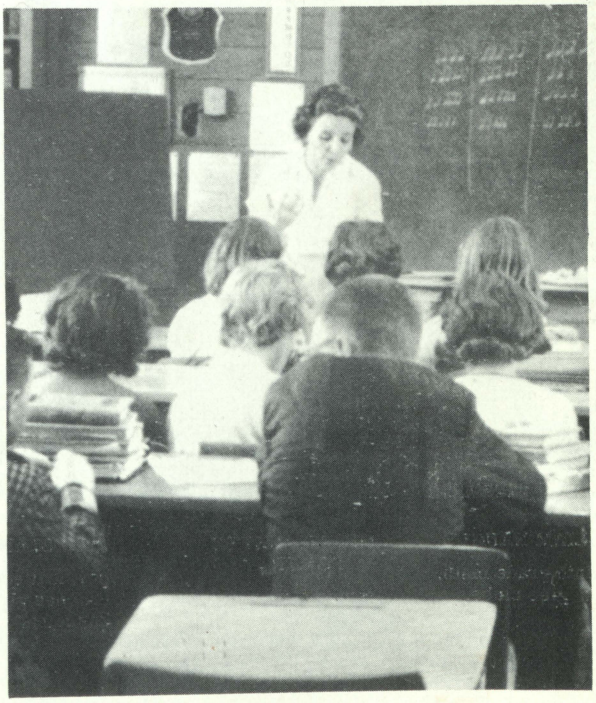
Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Wheatley sponsored the magazine campaign. The money received from the campaign is used for the seventh and eighth grade class trips.

Mrs. Baynard teaches seventh grade music. She also conducts the band and pep band.



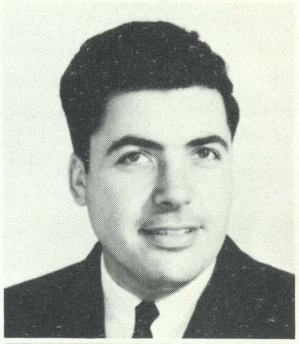
In addition to their regular vocational ag. studies, students of Mr. Harvey Price learn to construct duck decoys.

Variety is the Key

Tapes and earphones add interest to the textbook lessons of the French classes taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Helen Wheatley's U.S. history classes play an important role in the life of every eighth grader.

The busy teachers pause at lunch to discuss their problems before tackling their afternoon classes.



MR. HUBERT TREGO

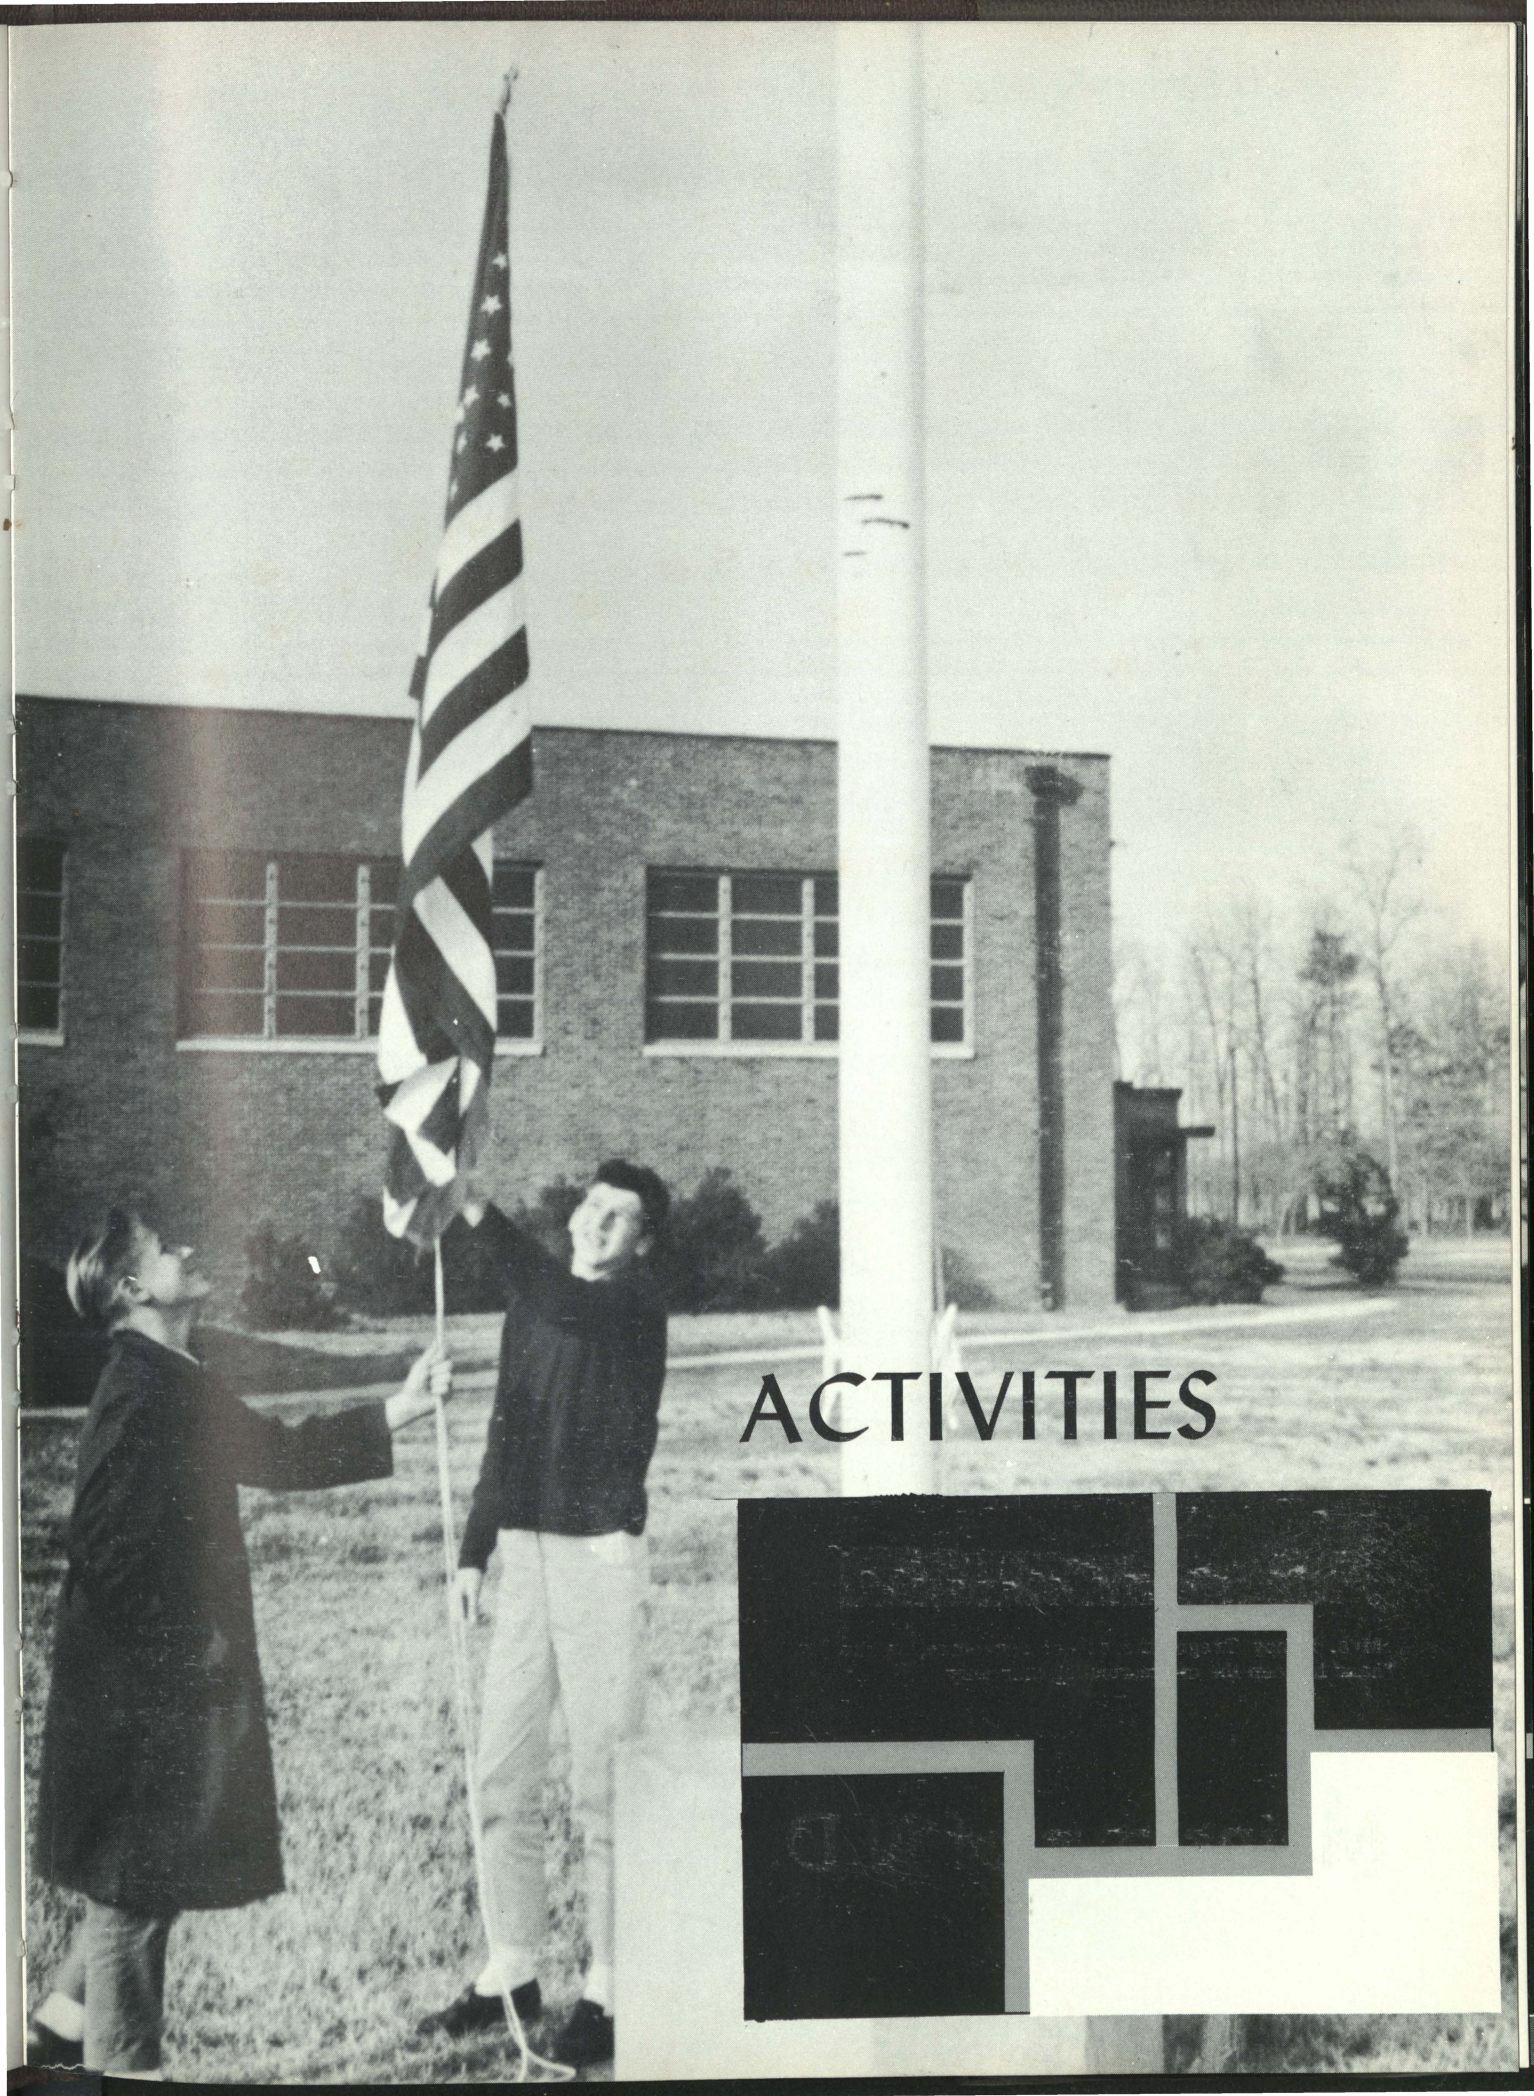
The Cafeteria staff Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Hackett, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Vaughn, Mrs. Windsor, and Mrs. Medford tries hard to serve good lunches at low cost.

Mrs. Nancy Trego, the school secretary, works hard to keep the office running smoothly.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn are busy seeing that N.D. is in running order. They not only perform the janitorial duties but also the ground maintenance.

Mainstays of N.D.



ACTIVITIES

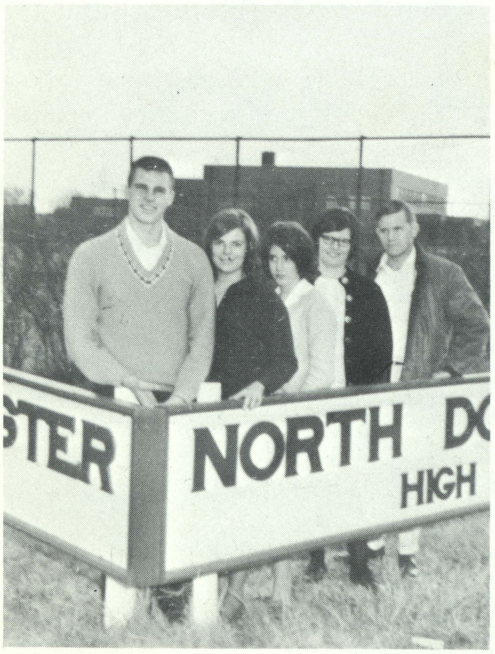
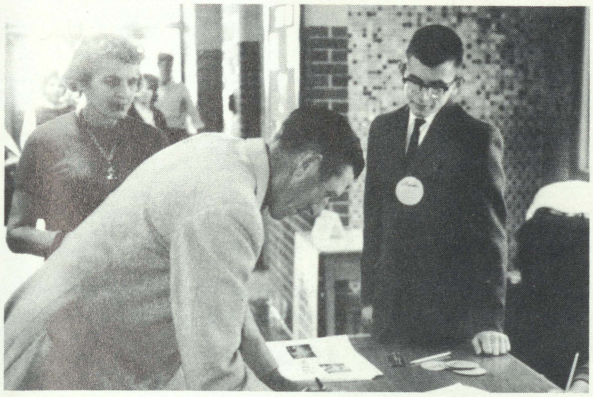
Teamwork Means

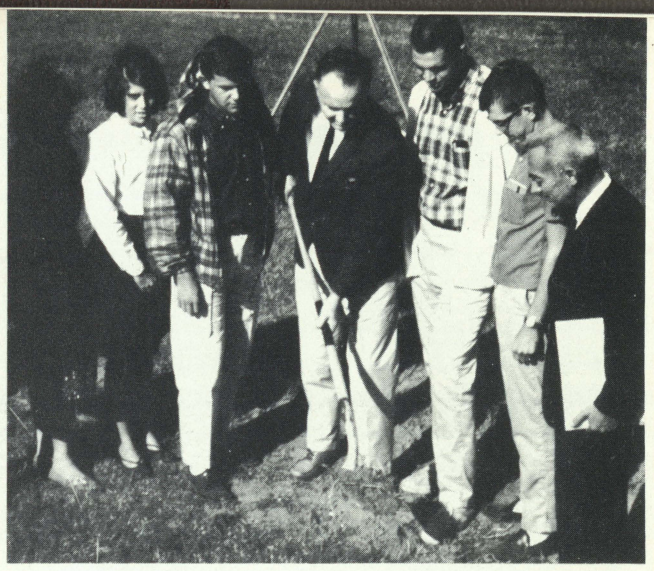
Ned Era, Christine Auld, Prissy Vaughn, Jackie Schmid, and Frank Tobat were delegates at the Maryland Assn. of Student Councils meeting held in Baltimore to exchange ideas with other Student Councils throughout the state.



Officers and members of the Executive Committee of the Student Council are: SEATED L. to R.: George Sellers, V. Pres., Ned Era, Pres., Christine Auld, Red. Sec.; STANDING: Prissy Vaughn, Treas., Mr. Vincent, sponsor, Sharon Lofland, Corres. Sec.



Parents register before visiting the classrooms to observe students progress and to meet the teachers at the annual Open House sponsored by the Student Council.



Student Council assist Superintendent James Busick at ground breaking ceremony for N.D.'s concession stand above.

The Student Council, under the supervision of Mr. Robert Vincent, is an organization dedicated to the strengthening of student - faculty relations and the further advancement of the student body. This year's Student Council, under the leadership of Ned Era, Pres., concluded plans for the construction of a press box and concession stand which were in operation for the opening of this year's football season. Through the diligent efforts of this year's council, the debt for both the concession stand and press box were paid in full.

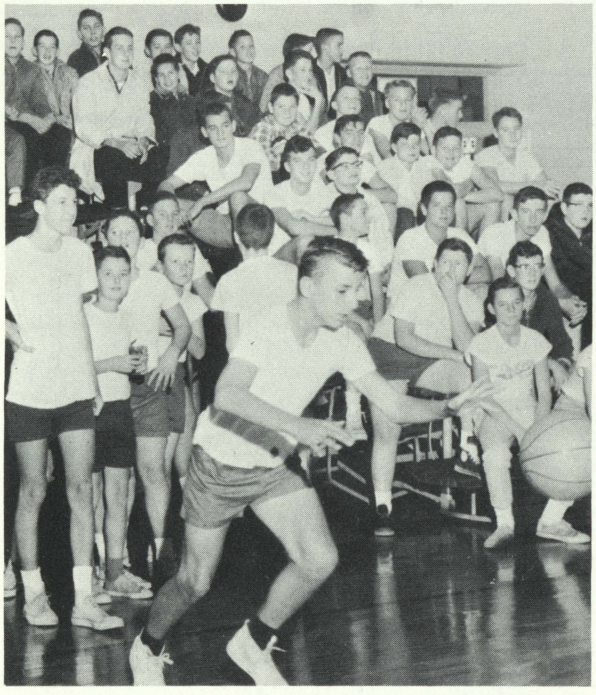
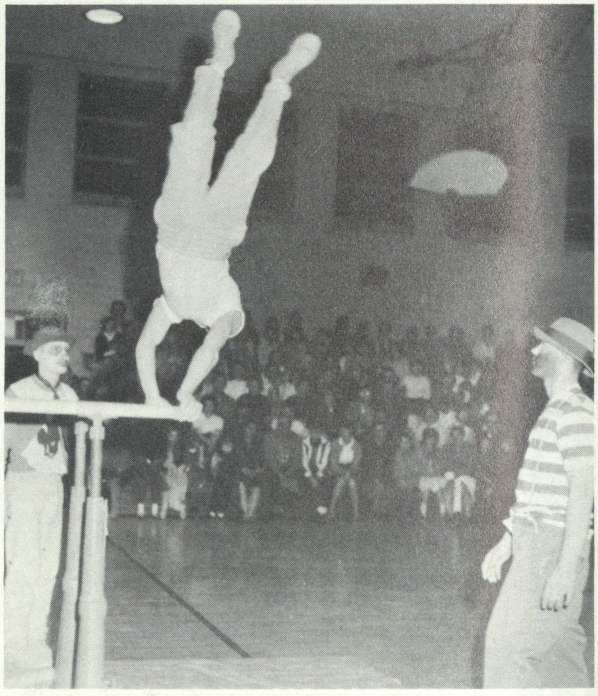
Phys. Ed. Dept. Programs Vary

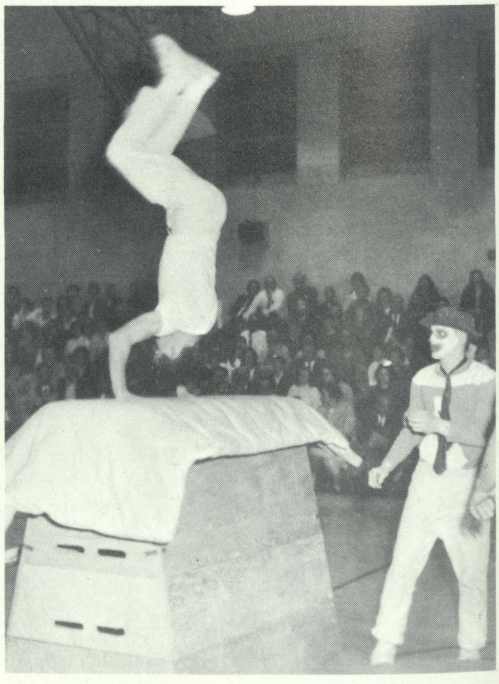


The race is on! Junior high boys' intramurals proceed at a fast pace, as spectators lend support.



One of the more difficult feats of the 1965 Gym Show is performed under the careful supervision of clowns John Bradley and Keith Lewis.

Junior high girls compete enthusiastically as a part of their intramural program.



It's 'Up and over!' for this Gym Show participant as clown John Bradley spots.

SENIORS

"EVERYTHING HAPPENS

In scholastic work as well as extra-curricular activities, the class of 1965 proved many times that it was outstanding.

The first challenge, the senior class play "Everything Happens to Us" was, financially, a huge success. Later, the class sponsored the Senior High Christmas Dance. With the expert guidance of several teachers and the hard work of many seniors, the setting was a perfect "Artic Wonderland".

Athletically also, the class proved successful. The boy's football and basketball teams experienced more wins than any teams in the past several years. The senior football girls also enjoyed victory. They scored seven points to the juniors' six in the Powder Puff Football Game.

Although working together seemed to be the theme for this class, many individual '65ers also received honors in a variety of fields. Bob Allen and Sue Corkran were named Mr. and Miss School Spirit by a vote of the student body. The several queens who adorn the list of '65 graduates include: Sharon Legg, Football Queen; Linda Mooney, FFA Sweetheart; and Audrey Reid, who won the talent contest at the Cambridge Outdoor Show.

Other individuals have also won honors. Sue Corkran became a finalist and Georgia Bell received a commendation in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Steve Andrews received a nomination to the Air Force Adademy. Sue Corkran was chosen the school winner in the Daughters of the American Revolution citizenship contest. The title of Homemaker of Tomorrow was won by Georgia Bell. Kathy Deane and Sharon Lofland represented ND in the All-State Chorus.

The school publications, the Keneu and the Eagle, had staffs who put forth their best efforts to produce interesting, factual records of this eventful school year.

The final challenge that proved how well the 1965 seniors work together was graduation, culminating a year of achievement.

Seniors Sponsor Both

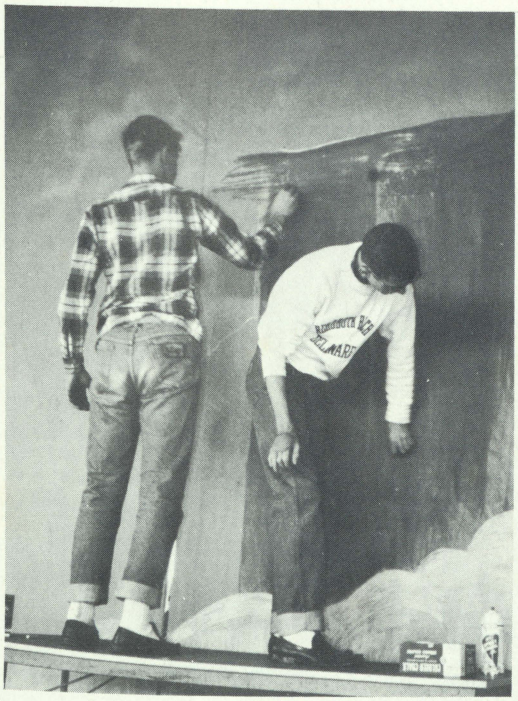
At right: "Barbara Bennett" alias "Esther Todd" (Mary Ann Moxey) aids "Miss Cartwright" (Sharon Smith) while "Mrs. Ross" (Rosemary Smith) and son "Ronald" (Marc Arceneaux) look on in a scene from the comic romance confused by an over solicitous mother and interferring kid brothers.

Class Play And Dance

"Arctic Wonderland" is a resounding success as laughing senior high couples enjoy each other's company as well as the refreshments served by the senior class. Each table is decorated with a small scene reproducing the large scale arctic igloo and North Pole in the center of the gym.

Senior Cheryl Todd, escorted by Charles Bounds, reigned during the evening as Snow Queen in the first such selection at the annual dance.



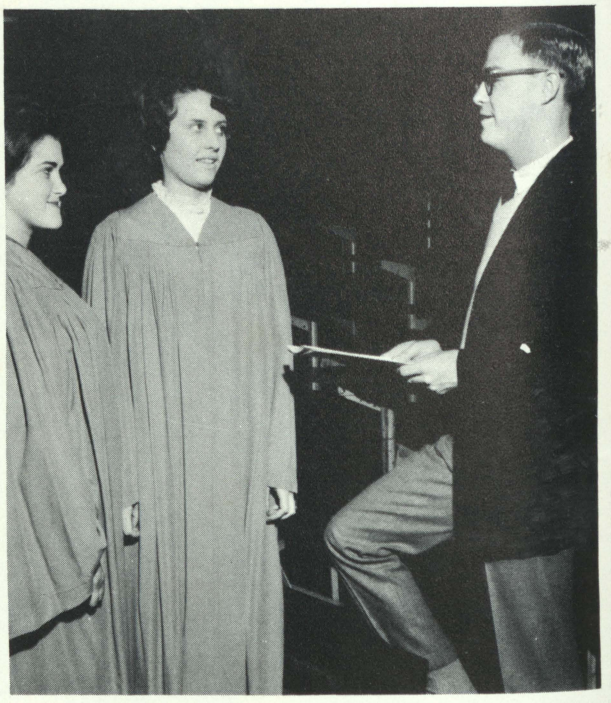
Arctic artists Bill Wilson and Melvin Newell recreate the Aurora Borealis.

The couples shown here are dancing to the music of the Mello-Notes. Pictured in the background are a few of the attractive wintery decorations.

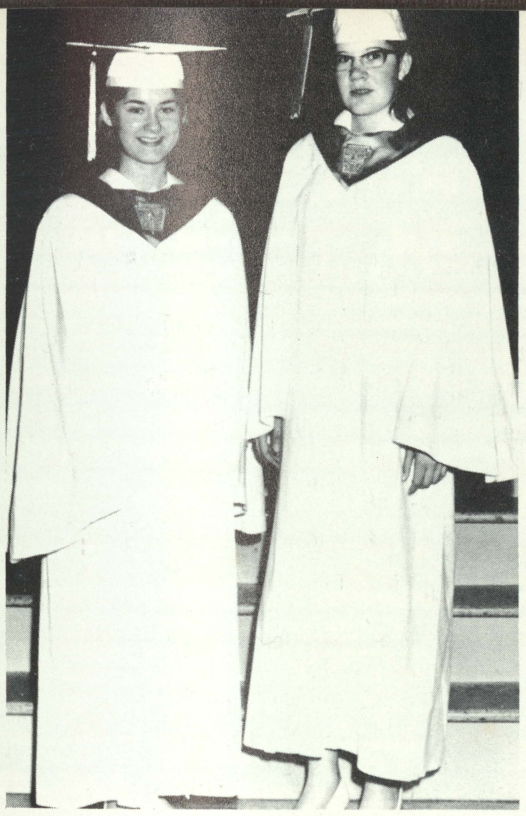
Honor citizens attending the 1964 Girls' and Boys' States were Mary Linda Windsor, Sharon Lofland, Frances Bellis, Sue Corkran, Charlie Bounds, Frank Tobat, Steve Andrews, and Randy Jones, respectively. Sue Corkran, center, was the recipient of the DAR Good Citizen Award. Georgia Bell and Frances Bellis tied for honors in an examination testing knowledge of the UN.

Hard at work is Georgia Bell, winner of the Betty Crocker Award for the Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Achievement Is



Vocally talented seniors representing ND in the All-State Chorus were Sharon Lofland and Kathy Deane. Their director is Mr. William Naugle.



Co-valedictorians of the Class of 1965 are Sue Corkran and Georgia Bell.

Outstanding seniors receiving scholarships for further study include, FIRST ROW, Carol Layton, Salisbury State College; Nancy Causey, Peninsula General Hospital; SECOND ROW, Steve Andrews, University of Md.; Don Smith, St. Mary's College; Bob Allen, University of Md.; Georgia Bell, University of Md.

The Byword In 1965

The Rev. Charles Barton of the Methodist Church gave the Baccalaureate address to the seniors on May 31, 1965.

"Gratitude" was the topic theme for the Commencement address given by Mr. John G. Leach, left, Vice-President of the Goldey Beacom School of Business.

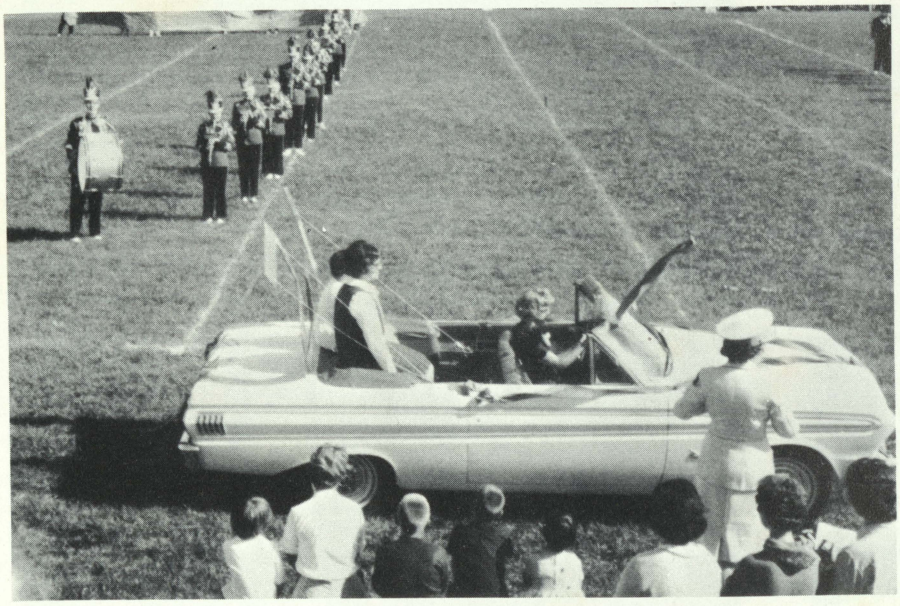
Addressing the graduates and the audience, Georgia Bell delivers her Valedictory speech.

Sue Corkran receives the Balfour Award for the outstanding student from Principal S. G. Tyler.

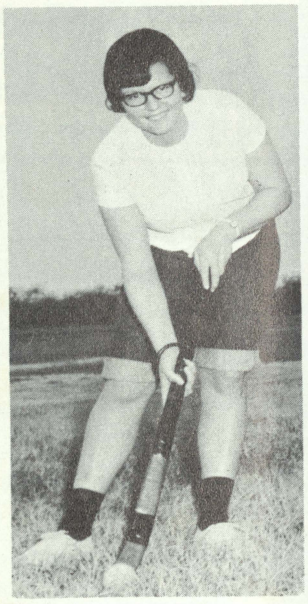
Diplomas On June 1, 1965

Exchange student Jackie Schmid, honorary member of the Class of '65, receives two of many graduation gifts, these presented by the Senior class and AFS chapter.

Georgia Bell extends her left hand to receive the Valedictory Award which signifies the highest grades obtained from ninth through twelfth grades. Also receiving this honor was Sue Corkran.



At N.D.'s first annual homecoming cermonies, Jackie performs her pleasant duty as an honorary member of the 1964-65 Football Queen's court.



Here Jackie poses in her role of field hockey fullback.

"Jackie" Brings Lucerne To N.D.

Jackie's contribution to the N.D. community has been a large one--her thoughts, her suggestions, her efforts. We shall not forget her!
